The Census data shown is for the year 1850 as reported in the 1860 Census.

See www2.census.gov/prod2/decennial/documents/1860e-06.pdf (pages 230-231).

Why are there differences between our figures and the Census Figures?

Here is an explanation state by state:

- District of Columbia:

1. Washington Branch Railroad - The 1860 Census shows no railroad in DC but this railroad did go to DC. The 1860 Census gave all 31 miles of it to Maryland, but the 1880 Census on page 515 shows that 3.87 miles of it were in DC.

- Maryland:

1. Baltimore and Port Deposit Railroad - This railroad was a predecessor to the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad (MD) and built this 36 miles.

2. Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad - A name change to Northern Central (MD) caused the Census Bureau to list the 45.50 miles under the new name.

3. Columbia and Pennsylvania Railroad
- A name change to this from Mount Savage Railroad caused the Census Bureau to list the 9 miles under the new name.

4. Cumberland Coal and Iron Company's Railroad

**-

A name change to this from Maryland Mining Company's Railroad caused the Census Bureau to list the 10.40 miles under the new name.

5. Franklin Railroad - This railroad was partly in Maryland and partly in Pennsylvania but the 1860 Census gave all of the mileage to Pennsylvania. According to page 442 of

Poor's book

, 6.50 miles of this railroad was in Maryland.

6. Maryland Mining Company's Railroad - A name change to Cumberland Coal and Iron Company's Railroad caused the Census Bureau to list the 10.40 miles under the new name.

7. Mount Savage

Railroad - A name change to Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad caused the Census Bureau to list the 9 miles under the new name.

8. Northern Central Railroad (MD) - A name change to this from Baltimore and Susquehanna Railroad caused the Census Bureau to list the 45.50 miles under the new name.

9. Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad (MD) - This railroad was a merger of the Baltimore and Port Deposit and the Wilmington and Susquehanna Railroads who actually built the Maryland part of the railroad. Hence, all 56 miles got assigned to the new railroad.

10. Washington Branch Railroad (MD) - 3.87 miles of this railroad was actually in the District of Columbia as explained above so that leaves the Maryland portion with 26.13 miles instead of 30.

11. Wilmington and Susquehanna Railroad (MD)

**-

This railroad was a predecessor to the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad (MD) and built this 20 miles.

- New Jersey:

1. Central Railroad

(NJ) - This railroad was the result in 1850 of a merger of the Somerville and Easton Railroad and the Elizabeth and Somerville Railroad. The former built 9.52 miles and the latter 25 miles for a total of 34.52 but for some reason the 1860 Census says that only 9.50 miles had been built. They apparently felt that Elizabeth and Somerville had not built its part prior to 1850 when it had done so in 1839 as related on page 390 of Poor's

Book . D
oggett's Railroad Guide, New York, (1848) in the Library of Congress at <http://hdl.loc.gov/loc.gmd/g3791p.rr000750> clearly shows that the Elizabeth and Somerville Railroad was in existence before 1850. The 1880 Census compounded the mistake by denying even the 9.50 miles the 1860 Census gave this railroad prior to 1850 and on page 331 shows no mileage prior to 1852. Given two independent sources confirming all this, we feel justified in adding the mileage to this railroad and New Jersey as of 1850.

2. Trenton Delaware

Bridge Company Railroad - This
railroad was ignored by the 1860 Census, but not the 1880 Census which reported 0.19 miles as being built in 1836.
No doubt it was ignored in 1860
because of its short length. This company had built a bridge across the Delaware River at Trenton, New Jersey in 1806. The reason that the 1880 Census reported this bridge as being built in 1836 was because this company was purchased by the

Camden and Amboy Railroad in 1835 who converted the bridge to handle railroad traffic in 1836.

- New York:

1. Albany and Schenectady Railroad - After the Mohawk and Hudson Railroad

changed its name to this, it added .06 miles in 1849 to the 16.91 miles built under the old name for a total of 16.97.
This railroad was one of the many railroads consolidated to form the New York Central Railroad in 1853 so all of their mileage was reported under that name. See

Mining and

Company
Railroad. It went from Corning to the Pennsylvania
border where it

joined the Tioga Navigation
Company Railroad which ran down to Morris Run,
Pennsylvania.
In 1851, the

Pennsylvania
company was reorganized and changed its name to the Tioga Railroad.
The two portions

merged under the name of Corning and Blossburg
Railroad. In 1854, it went and was bought by new owners who changed the name to Blossburg and which name the Census Bureau

assigned its

14.81 miles.

6. Buffalo and Black Rock Railroad - Built 3 miles in 1834 and then acquired by the

Buffalo and Niagara Falls
Railroad in 1837 who built another 19
miles to Niagara Falls in the same year.

7. Buffalo and Niagara Falls Railroad - See above. This 22 mile railroad was not included in the 1860

Census count for 1850 even though it was finished by 1837.

See

New York

8. Cayuga and Susquehanna Railroad -

This road was originally built by the

Ithaca and Owego Railroad in 1834. It was foreclosed in 1843 and the new owners

changed the name to this one and reported the mileage under this name.

9. Hudson and Berkshire Railroad - This railroad was built in 1838 from

Hudson to the Massachusetts state line where it connected with the West

Stockbridge Railroad. It was foreclosed in 1854 and
